

Death in Washington, July 5, 1976.

Passing by these elegant homes I see at the curb an ambulance with open doors, a fire truck with flashing lights, and on that handsome portico aside the gaping door,
the final exit,
sentries,
two grim husky sons,
choking tears.