

Libraries

In grey temples ticking scholars chose
From thirteen definitions to defuse
The relentless brutality of fate,
Call simple deeds wise wrong or great.
The detritus of time left here by accident
Differing only from each other incident
In the irony of well-honed imagination
Now evidence for theory wanted flagellation
Thus we do attack the mystery
And we would call it history

MAY/APRIL 1980